BRENT'S DREAM

Brent Winters was practically born on wheels. Growing up, he spent every day at the racetrack with his father, a professional motorbike racer. In his teens, Brent is involved in a terrible road accident and as a result, loses his legs. This tragic event brought pain, both physical and emotional. Brent recovers and through the use of sports, starts to get his life back together. He slowly regains confidence and acquires a newfound independence. Brent meets new friends as he continues his rehabilitation with sports and together, they participate in a Triathlon trial: swimming, running and hand-cycling. His renewed enthusiasm for sport encourages him to fulfill his dream of participating in the Paralympic Games in hopes of becoming the fastest on wheels.

Along the way, Brent meets Patty, a volleyball player from the Spike Team, through an on-line College Blog. They share interests in sports and new technology and grow fond of each other. A romance begins to blossom! When Patty goes to England with the Spike Team for an international volleyball tournament, she also gets to support Brent during his big Paralympics race and cheers him on as he crosses the finish line! Patty and Brent promise to meet each other again in Rome at the upcoming Junior Olympic Games which will include Paralympic Games for the first time.

The Spike Team Special has gained worldwide interest from kids and families alike given its empowering message of overcoming disabilities and hardships and learning to triumph through strong will and determination. This inspirational Special appeals to both boys and girls and takes you on a family friendly journey that is both exciting and motivating.

The Spike Team Special, funded in part by the International Paralympic Committee sets Brent as a recurring character in the motivational children's series SPIKE TEAM (52 x 26'), now in its second season. Worldwide rights are available through Foothill Entertainment and Team Entertainment.
