FAMILY BIZ

CREATED BY JAMES NADLER

Dave and Antonia Keller work long and hard - and their children Eli, Avalon and Ronnie like it that way. Teen insanity rules for these three kids who have turned their house into the neighbourhood social hub. So when Dad's career is downsized and he sets up The Keller Corporation in the attic, the kids are sure their lives will never be the same again. In this comedy of adjusted expectations, teen angst and parental goofs - will the children survive? Will Dave? Too bad the kids can't just fire Dad!

A man of action, Dave must find problems to solve. He believes he can solve his kids' normal, adolescent problems by applying sound management techniques to parenting. After issuing the kids briefcases and business cards, they are now employees of The Keller Family Corporation.

Eli, 16, is the reluctant leader. A regular kid - gawky and hormone addled, Eli's brain only has so much available space. Already on warnings for sleeping in, playing videogames on company time and improper use of company email, Eli's position as Junior Account Executive and Eldest Son is on shaky ground.

Avalon, 15, is the planner. New at high school, she cruises through with straight A's whilst hiding her inner geek, and working hard to get in with the cool kids. Vice President of Self Marketing and Middle Child, Avalon's main gripe with the Human Resources Department is how embarrassing her parents are.

Ronnie, 11, is Daddy's girl. She knows Dad will claw his way back to the top. Dragged along by Eli and Avalon on their insane schemes, Ronnie is always there as the voice of reason. But as Vice President, Finance and Favourite Child, Ronnie is en-route to fast-track promotion within the Keller Corporation.

Idiosyncratic and upbeat, this is a show the family can watch together - if Mum and Dad aren't working late...
