Mega Minimals™

MegaMinimals is an animated series set in a nursery school for very young animals. We join them as they learn and play together, sharing their friendship and all the fun times they experience along the way. They are always making surprising discoveries - like the “rocks” that move around on their own, are really tortoises!

Each episode is a funny, enchanting story, full of interesting situations and characters with which pre-school children will easily identify.

The series has been designed with input from educational specialists and the real-life experiences they have brought to the series are sure to bring a smile to children around the globe.

International rights are available in English speaking territories for this series produced by Neptuno Films.
