THE ASSISTANTS

If you think it's tough at the top in Hollywood – you've never been at the bottom!

Series: 13 x 1/2 hour

THE ASSISTANTS

Four Hollywood assistants struggle to survive one another and the unpredictable whims of their eccentric movie mogul boss in this hilarious comedy, set amidst the exaggerated world of Tinsel Town. How far will they go to succeed as they look up at the world from the lowest rung of the Hollywood food chain?

When young aspiring writer and filmmaker Gillian Hughes lands a job with Academy Award-winning producer Zak del Toro it seems like the perfect stepping-stone. But, along with fellow assistants Danny Newell, the office charmer and bad boy; Rigby Hastings, the stunningly beautiful, cunning and formidable super achiever; and Nate Warren, Gillian's best friend, office clown and master of disaster, what she discovers is that in Hollywood perfection isn't always as easy as it seems.

Blending observational, slice of life humour with the competitive, paranoid environment of show business, the series follows their comical exploits and misadventures as they struggle not to crack under the pressure of a buzzing production office. Answering phones, sorting files, making coffee, cleaning dental retainers, digging through dumpsters in the dead of night, sabotaging celebrity rehabs, breaking and entering the offices of competing producers - they will, in general, do anything, at any time, in the hopes of winning over their irrepressible boss.

On top of the long hours and impossible requests, their personal lives are equally demanding. Falling in and out of love, learning valuable life lessons and making choices that will shape who they are forever, watch as the assistants are molded into the great producers of tomorrow, discovering exactly who they are and how far they will go to fulfill their dreams.

They may, at times, suffer the cruelest job imaginable - but what other nineteen-year-old gets to travel by helicopter to the Academy Awards?
